

Best Summer Programs for Pre-Med

Young people who dream of becoming physicians often begin seeking extracurricular opportunities to immerse themselves in the medical world during high school. In addition to volunteering at a hospital or shadowing a medical professional, many teens also look to gain formalized training/experience via a selective summer program.

Our list of Best Summer Programs in Pre-Med is comprised of 22 phenomenal programs that range in duration, cost, and eligibility criteria, but all are all high-quality options that are worth your time and money. Each of the aforementioned data points are provided for each school along with the location of the program, whether they offer a residential experience, and when the application window opens and closes. Other information offered includes: dates that applications become available, program deadlines, whether residential housing is offered, and the geographic location where the program takes place. This information should give you a jump start on selecting an experience that will provide another step on the path toward gaining acceptance into a competitive pre-med college program.

Program	Location	Residential	Focus	Length	Costs
Boston Leadership Institute: Medical Programs	Multiple	Yes	Pre-med	1 or 3 weeks	$600-$4
Boston University Introduction to Medicine	Boston, MA	Yes	Pre-med	3 weeks	~$6,300
Camp BIOmed	Bellevue, Seattle, & Spokane, WA	No	Health/Pre-med	1 week	$695